Agenda:

1. Tara Burke, UMD Smart Cities Initiative, Welcome and Introduction 2:05-2:10 pm
2. Susan Slingsluff Hartmann
Executive Director, College Park City-University Partnership 2:10-2:45 pm

Ms. Susan Slingsluff Hartmann is a cross-sector specialist with 18 years of experience in urban planning, local economic development, multi-agency partnerships, public engagement, and neighborhood revitalization. She has technical experience in strategic and long-range planning, commercial revitalization, public sector consulting, public engagement, facilitation and program management.

Prior to joining the College Park City-University Partnership she was a Senior Program Director with Enterprise Advisors, the mission-driven consulting division of Enterprise Community Partners. With Advisors, she led efforts to strengthen cross-sector collective impact collaboratives to achieve equitable education, housing and neighborhood outcomes for students and families in cities and communities across the country. She also developed an assessment and strategic planning approach for cities recovering equitably from the COVID-19 pandemic and provided technical assistance to cities and states facing challenges related to economic decline, affordable housing and neighborhood disinvestment.

3. Municipal top priorities and needs – review and discussion 2:45-3:15 pm
4. Round Robin: announcements, events, adjourn 3:15–3.30 pm
