Keeping BIPOC- and Immigrant-Owned Businesses in Place

Join the Small Business Anti-Displacement Network (SBAN) for one of the first national conferences on commercial gentrification!

SBAN is a national network of small business anti-displacement leaders that includes local and national nonprofits, policymakers, technical assistance providers, scholars, and public sector agencies.

Come strategize and learn with us about keeping BIPOC- and immigrant-owned small businesses in place. At this virtual conference, we'll discuss how to combat commercial displacement, share knowledge about innovative policies and practices, hear stories from changing neighborhoods, and identify ways to advance anti-displacement activism in different cities and regions.
